

Cllr Connor McConville

Hello, my name is Connor, born in Australia, I have lived in Folkestone now for 11 years. It is currently the place I have lived the longest in my life and am happy to call it home. I am a chef by trade and have worked in kitchens all around the world. I now teach the chefs of tomorrow here at Folkestone College. I dedicate a lot of my time to working for a better Folkestone and have made many good friends in my time living here.
