

Councillor Adrian Lockwood

I moved to Folkestone in 2010 from East London and have been involved in community projects since then. This includes the Step Short Memorial Arch, Sunflower House and the Friends of the Leas Pavilion. I am a building surveyor professionally and have worked extensively on the Creative Quarter in Folkestone and have managed the Turner Schools Estate for a time. I now run my own company that often works with local businesses. I am a Folkestone Town Councillor and FH District Councillor and on the board of Oportunitas and the East Kent Spatial Development Company.
